

MANUEL JUSTIN SANCHEZ

---

EDUCATION

Ph.D. Criminology and Criminal Justice Arizona State University, Phoenix, AZ	Current
M.S. Psychology Arizona State University, Glendale, AZ	May 2017 GPA 3.92
B.A. Psychology, Minor Criminal Justice Glendale, AZ Barrett, The Honor's College Arizona State University	May 2015 GPA 4.0

PUBLICATIONS

Peter-Hagene, C. L., Sanchez, M. J., & Salerno, J. M. (2016). Expressing anger increases male jurors' influence, but decreases female jurors' influence, during mock jury deliberations. The Jury Expert.

RESEARCH CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Sanchez, M. J., & Salerno, J. M. (2018). Perceptions of Officers who Use Force in Police-Civilian Interactions at the annual meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society Convention, Memphis, TN.

Sanchez, M. J., & Salerno, J. M. (2016). Perceptions of and punitiveness towards police officers. Presentation at the annual meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society Convention, Atlanta, GA.

Sanchez, M. J., Salerno, J. M., Nadler, J., Malik, S., Macias, A., Fletcher, S., & Caraveo-Parra, D. (2016). The effect of gruesome photographs and jury instructions on juror decision making. Presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Personality and Social Psychology's Psychology and Law pre-convention, San Diego, CA.

ABSTRACTS ACCEPTED

Sanchez, M. J., & Salerno, J. M. (2018). Perceptions of officers who use force in police-civilian interactions. Presentation at the annual meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society Convention, Memphis, TN.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

RICK J. TRINKNER, PH.D. Aug 2017 – Present
We are currently investigating police officer's views on the militarization of the police. I have been involved in cleaning, preparing and analyzing the data.

JESSICA M. SALERNO, PH.D.

Fall 2014 – May 2017

We are currently investigating how the role of gender and race differentially effect people's perceptions of police-civilian interactions. I was involved in designing a study to investigate these phenomena, which involved collecting, analyzing and interpreting the data. I am currently preparing my master's thesis on this study's findings for publication. In other projects we previously explored the role emotions play in jury decision making. Specifically, we were interested in how different types of evidence presented during trial would influence jurors' emotions, and thus their sentencing decisions. I have been involved in collecting the data on these projects. Additionally, I was involved in designing a study to investigate how a police officer's protective role, race of the victim, and publicized media events influence people's perceptions of punishment. I was involved in designing this study, collecting and analyzing the data.

GRANTS

Diversity Research Award ($1,000)

Spring 2016

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Grand Canyon University

Aug 2017 – Present

Instructional Assistant

- Helped undergraduate students understand concepts and assist with homework for introductory statistics course and college mathematics course. Maintained regular office hours to meet and assist students. Provided tutoring in the math center for undergraduate student, and proctored exams.

Glendale Community College

Aug 2017 – May 2018

Adjunct Faculty

- Taught a course on introduction to statistics for the social sciences and taught an introduction to psychology course. Taught an introduction to statistics lab where students learned how to use SPSS. Developed class materials to include lecture materials, assignments and tests.

STATISTICS AND METHODS LAB

Aug 2015 – May 2017

Lead Stats Consultant

- Helped undergraduate and graduate students understand concepts and assist with homework in SPSS. Created learning materials and gave presentations on different areas of statistics and research methods. Provided one-on-one tutoring either in person or online in statistical methods or research methods. Supervised day-to-day activities of the lab and ensure all equipment was operational. Supervised five employees to ensure all services provided were up to standards

Quantitative Research 1

Spring 2016

Teaching Assistant

- Served as a teaching assistant for course that taught the underlying principles of ANOVA. Provided hands on experience using SPSS and helped develop course assignments. Covered different methods such as between-subjects ANOVA, contrast analysis, post-hoc tests, multifactor ANOVA, repeated measures ANOVA, mixed-factor ANOVA, and ANCOVA.

Quantitative Research 2 Fall 2015
Teaching Assistant

- Served as a teaching assistant for a course that taught the underlying principles of linear regression. Provided hands on experience using SPSS. Covered different methods such as multiple regression, hierarchical regression, regression with categorical and continuous IVs, logistic regression, and moderation & mediation using Hayes Process Macro.

LEADERSHIP

PSI CHI NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY Fall 2014 - Spring 2015

Vice President

- Assisted President in planning and preparing meetings and events on campus. Helped orchestrate club volunteer events.

AWARDS

Veterans Education Fund Award ($1,500)	Spring 2017
Diversity Travel Award ($250)	Spring 2016
Veterans Education Fund Award ($1,000)	Spring 2016
Graduate Education Fellowship ($10,000)	Fall 2015 - Spring 2016
Transfer Achievement Award ($8,000)	Fall 2013 - Spring 2015
University Grant ($3,000)	Fall 2014 - Spring 2015