CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

Arizona State University

NUR 672: Design & Delivery of Mediated Learning

Redesigned course to include scaffolded, project-based learning activities that align with AACN Essentials and competency-based education principles.

NUR 552: Dynamics of Professional Nursing I

Led faculty team for the development of a foundational course for the new RN-MS program.

NUR 553: Dynamics of Professional Nursing II

Led faculty team for the development of a foundational course for the new RN-MS program.

Project Florence (2020 April)

worked with EdPlus and Sana Labs to develop content for upskilling nurses to the ICU at Mt. Sinai Hospital during the COVID-19 pandemic. Served as one of three subject matter experts to develop and refine personalized learning content on a variety of critical care topics (Pneumonia, PE, ARDS, Capnography).

COVID-19 Mobile Testing Sites: Standard Operating Procedure (2020, March)

Develop training protocols for clinical staff at mobile testing locations to support the Arizona State University Research Enterprise and ASU Biodesign Institute. The scripts were used to train new teams and continue to be used as new testing sites are developed.

NUR591: Theoretical Foundations for Nursing – 3-credit course (2019, Fall)

Developed new course for the first cohort of the new Master's Entry to Nursing Practice program.

NUR672: Design and Delivery of Mediated Instruction – 3-credit course (2019, Summer)

Took over course from faculty and performed major revisions to learning materials and activities.

NUR318: Nursing Research & Evidence Translation – 4-credit course (2019, Fall)

Worked on faculty team to create a new 4-credit course with a literacy designation.

Interprofessional End of Life Conference Virtual Simulation - learning module (2016, Summer)

Developed and launched an innovative learning module for students from nursing, nutrition, community health, clinical research management, and social work to navigate a virtual reality simulation using the Second Life platform. Served as Primary investigator with IRB approval.

NUR444: Innovation in Nursing – 15-week course (2015, Fall)

Adapted a new 15-week course in Black Board based on an existing 7.5-week version.

Bachelor of Science, Care Coordination (2015, Summer)

Worked with ad hoc Curriculum Committee to finalize the plan of study and develop course learning outcomes and topical outlines for new bachelor's degree programs.

NUR391: Health Promotion Across the Lifespan (2015, Summer)

Supported course lead faculty to add YouSeeU videoconferencing technology to the course.

All Courses within the RN-BSN Curriculum (2014, Fall – 2015, Summer)

Undertook a targeted revision of all course unit learning outcomes to incorporate Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC) competencies. Modified learning activities collaboratively with course lead faculty. Outcome of this work was published in a peer-reviewed journal.

NUR391: Professional Nursing Theory (2015, Spring)

Redesigned two weekly units and developed a third to create new learning activities, assignments, and rubrics.

Carrington College

NUR138: Medication Administration and Pharmacology for Nursing (2014)

Heavily redesigned this course, assuring alignment with learning outcomes and incorporating new educational techniques for enhanced learning.

NUR138: Medication Administration Lab (2014)

Heavily redesigned course to include didactic content, high-fidelity simulation, and hands-on practice to prepare block 1 students for clinical experiences in acute care.

NUR262: Management of Care (2013)

Redesigned this course curriculum to meet the student learning outcomes for the program, add new learning activities, and utilized modern educational techniques.

Banner Health

Therapeutic Hypothermia (2013-2014)

Developed clinical guidelines for Banner Health System-wide protocols and policies to guide the roll-out of practice change through the Critical Care Clinical Discipline Team.

Emergency Department to Critical Care Prioritization (2013)

Developed educational materials used for interprofessional clinicians (medicine, nursing, and respiratory therapy) to inform clinical staff of the practice protocols, provide strong rationale for practice changes to improve program adoption, and outline new workflow and decision criteria.

Safe Procedure (2012)

Created interprofessional role-play scripts for use throughout the procedural departments within the Banner Health System during the launch of this new practice.
