

Christina Litchfield

113 Lincoln Drive - Vestal, New York 13850

calitchf@asu.edu :: 607-821-9505

---

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

- ❖ Over seven years' experience in the education field, including as an online teaching assistant, a writing mentor, English as a Second Language teacher, postsecondary instructor in undergraduate English and writing both in-person and online, and substitute teacher at the primary and secondary level
- ❖ Completed the MA in English at Arizona State University in December 2017; currently pursuing a PhD English – Creative Writing degree at Binghamton University
- ❖ Areas of focus: abnormal psychology, trauma studies, 20th century American literature, Native American literature, creative nonfiction/memoir, multilingual/multicultural education

EDUCATION

- ❖ Bachelor of Science, Psychology, Washington State University, 5/2015
- ❖ Master of Arts, English, Arizona State University, 12/2017
- ❖ Doctor of Philosophy, English – Creative Writing, Binghamton University, 1/2020 - present

ADDITIONAL EDUCATION & TRAINING

- ❖ Teaching College Writing, Binghamton University, completed 5/2020
- ❖ Master Class for Teaching Online, Arizona State University, completed 10/2019
- ❖ Bilingual and Multicultural Education, Binghamton University, completed 5/2019

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- ❖ Writing Instructor, Binghamton University – 8/2020 to present: Through a Teaching Assistantship, Instructor for first-year undergraduate writing courses (Writing 111) with experience in all formats – in-person, hybrid, online synchronous and asynchronous. The course is process-based and includes several writing projects culminating in a final portfolio; using Blackboard and Brightspace.
  - Contacts: Dr. Joelle Mann or Dr. Sean Fenty (see below for contact information)
- ❖ Faculty Associate, Arizona State University – 8/2019 to present: Instructor for online, writing-intensive undergraduate English composition courses (English 101/102) in the online asynchronous format. The course is process-based and includes several writing and multimodal projects, including a professional digital portfolio; using Canvas and Digication. Also responsible for supervising a Teaching Assistant.
  - Contact: Dr. Michelle Stuckey
- ❖ English Instructor, Hujiang – 2/2017 to 8/2021: Online English instructor responsible for evaluation of native Chinese speakers and teaching English as a Second Language to young adult and adult learners;

also designed and conducted several large-group English language lessons and workshops for fellow teachers; selected as Teacher of the Year 2018

- Contact: Grace Chen
- ❖ Substitute Teacher, Union-Endicott School District – 9/2019 to present: substitute teacher for elementary, middle, and high school students in all subjects, with particular interest in English
  - Contact: Dr. Larry Dake
- ❖ Writing Mentor, Arizona State University – 8/2016 to 5/2018: Support for online undergraduate sections of English; responsible for grading and facilitating online class discussions, peer reviews of written assignments, as well as conducting one-on-one and group tutoring sessions online to help students improve their writing
  - Contact: Dr. Michelle Stuckey
- ❖ Teaching Assistant, Washington State University – 1/2014 to 5/2015: TA for an online undergraduate section of Psychology at Washington State University; successfully completed training for online teaching as well as FERPA training; responsible for grading and facilitating class discussion using Blackboard
  - Contact: Dr. Lee Daffin, Jr.

ACADEMIC & PROFESSIONAL REFERENCES

- ❖ Dr. Joelle Mann, Binghamton University – Lecturer, Writing Initiative
  - Email: jmann@binghamton.edu :: Phone: (607) 777-6725
- ❖ Dr. Susan Strehle, Binghamton University – Professor, English Department
  - Email: sstrehle@binghamton.edu :: Phone: (607) 777-2770
- ❖ Dr. Leslie Heywood, Binghamton University – Professor, English Department
  - Email: heywood@binghamton.edu :: Phone: (607) 777-2770
- ❖ Dr. Sean Fenty, Binghamton University – Writing Initiative Director
  - Email: sfenty@binghamton.edu :: Phone: (607) 777-6706
- ❖ Dr. Michelle Stuckey, Arizona State University – Program Administrator, Writers' Studio
  - Email: mastucke@asu.edu :: Phone: (480) 965-0676
- ❖ Dr. Larry Dake, Union-Endicott School District – Asst. Superintendent Personnel/Secondary Education
  - Email: ldake@uek12.org :: Phone: (607) 658-7155
- ❖ Grace Chen – Teacher Support, Hujiang Education (China)
  - Email: grayska.chen@hujiang.com :: Phone: (+86) 02160280828
- ❖ Dr. Lee Daffin, Jr., Washington State University - Director, Online BS Psychology Program
  - Email: ldaffin@wsu.edu :: Phone: (509) 335-2631

PRESENTATIONS & PUBLICATIONS

- ❖ The Loudest Voice: Taking Back Trauma in the Native American Story, paper presented at Melange 2021 International Conference on Memory and Narrativization, April 2021
- ❖ Clan of the Lightworkers, nonfiction essay published in Snapdragon Journal, October 2020