From the acceptance letter: This is the 7th year that Academic Affairs and the Office of Research & Sponsored Programs have co-sponsored this student-centered research initiative. The review committee evaluated all applications based on a number of criteria including student's eligibility, faculty mentor's recommendation and financial need. Despite the highly meritorious nature of all of the submitted applications, budget limitations were such that only a 34 awards could be funded. The fact that we had 59 applications and your submission was one of the selected for an award speaks to the quality of your proposed work and the enthusiasm of your faculty research mentor in your abilities to complete the research project successfully.
