Pro Bono PUBLIC SERVICE and COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Past President, Arizona Women's Forum - 2002-2004 the Arizona affiliate of the International Women's Forum, an international forum of women leaders.

Board Member, AWEE (Arizona Women's Education and Employment) - 2002-present a local non profit organization that provides assistance to women seeking education and employment opportunities.

National Board of Directors, American Humanics Foundation, 1994- present. This involves two to four meetings each year and provision of other guidance regarding the expansion of the American Humanics program into more universities as part of a major Kellogg grant received by American Humanics. Since 1996 I have chaired the Program Services committee and from 1998- 2001 I served as vice-chair of the Executive Committee. From 1997 to 2001, the national office held an annual all-day workshop at ASU for several universities who are planning to add an American Humanics program and I, along with Robert Ashcraft, helped coordinate their visit here. Four or five universities typically send representatives to these sessions.

National Victim Assistance Office Task Force on Victim Services, 2003 - . The national task force meets twice each year to review approaches and projects for victim services.

Social Capital project - Arizona Community Foundation, 2000-2002 I was the "academic partner" for a nationwide project to measure "social capital" (i.e., civic involvement) in about 40 metropolitan areas. The survey work is completed and includes a random sample survey of 500 persons from Maricopa county; 3000 national, and 500 to 1000 persons in each of 30 other communities in the U.S.

Invited Guest Speaker - Valley Leadership 2000 Graduation, on "Bowling Alone," What's Happened to Social Capital in America?

Administration of the Death Penalty, 2000 - I worked with the Arizona Attorney General (Janet Napolitano) and the College's Center for Urban Inquiry during the early phases of a study on the administration of the death penalty in Arizona.

Arizona Black Town Hall Background Research Report. I served as the coordinator and editor for the background report in 1995, 1996, and 1997 (see list of publications, above). My responsibilities included coordinating faculty or graduate students who serve as authors, liaison with representatives from the Black Town Hall, and serving as editor. The result is a paperback book of about 150 to 200 pages that is used as the background report for the annual Black Town Hall — an all-day conference of black community leaders in Arizona. We publish about 750 copies of which 200 or so are distributed to participants and the others are distributed by the Black Town Hall organization to interested persons in Arizona. ASU provides $8,000 for the project from the Provost's office and the College of Public Programs usually adds $2,000 or so to this total.

Founding Member, Arizona Foundation for Women, 1995-1997. This organization was created to help insure equality and justice for women in Arizona. I was one of the "founding members," and served on the board for two years.

Arizona Academy Town Hall. I am a member of the Arizona Academy Town Hall and attended the 1996 session on "Citizenship" held at the Grand Canyon. In 1993 I was a member of the research team that prepared the background research report, Confronting Violent Crime in Arizona, coordinated by Dr. Peg Bortner. I contributed one chapter (on "Violence: Just the 'Facts'"), part of another chapter, and helped with the overall editing. I also attended the 1993 town hall meeting at the Grand Canyon and participated in the explanation of the research report.
